The Municipal Census Program

The Municipal Census Program is co-ordinated by the City of Airdrie. The City is responsible for hiring census takers, overseeing the enumeration and for tabulating, analyzing and publishing the results. In addition to providing valuable information for the City, the program also helps various provincial government departments and local authorities and agencies plan the services they provide to the residents of Airdrie. Please contact Legislative Services at (403) 948-8816 for any additional information you may need.

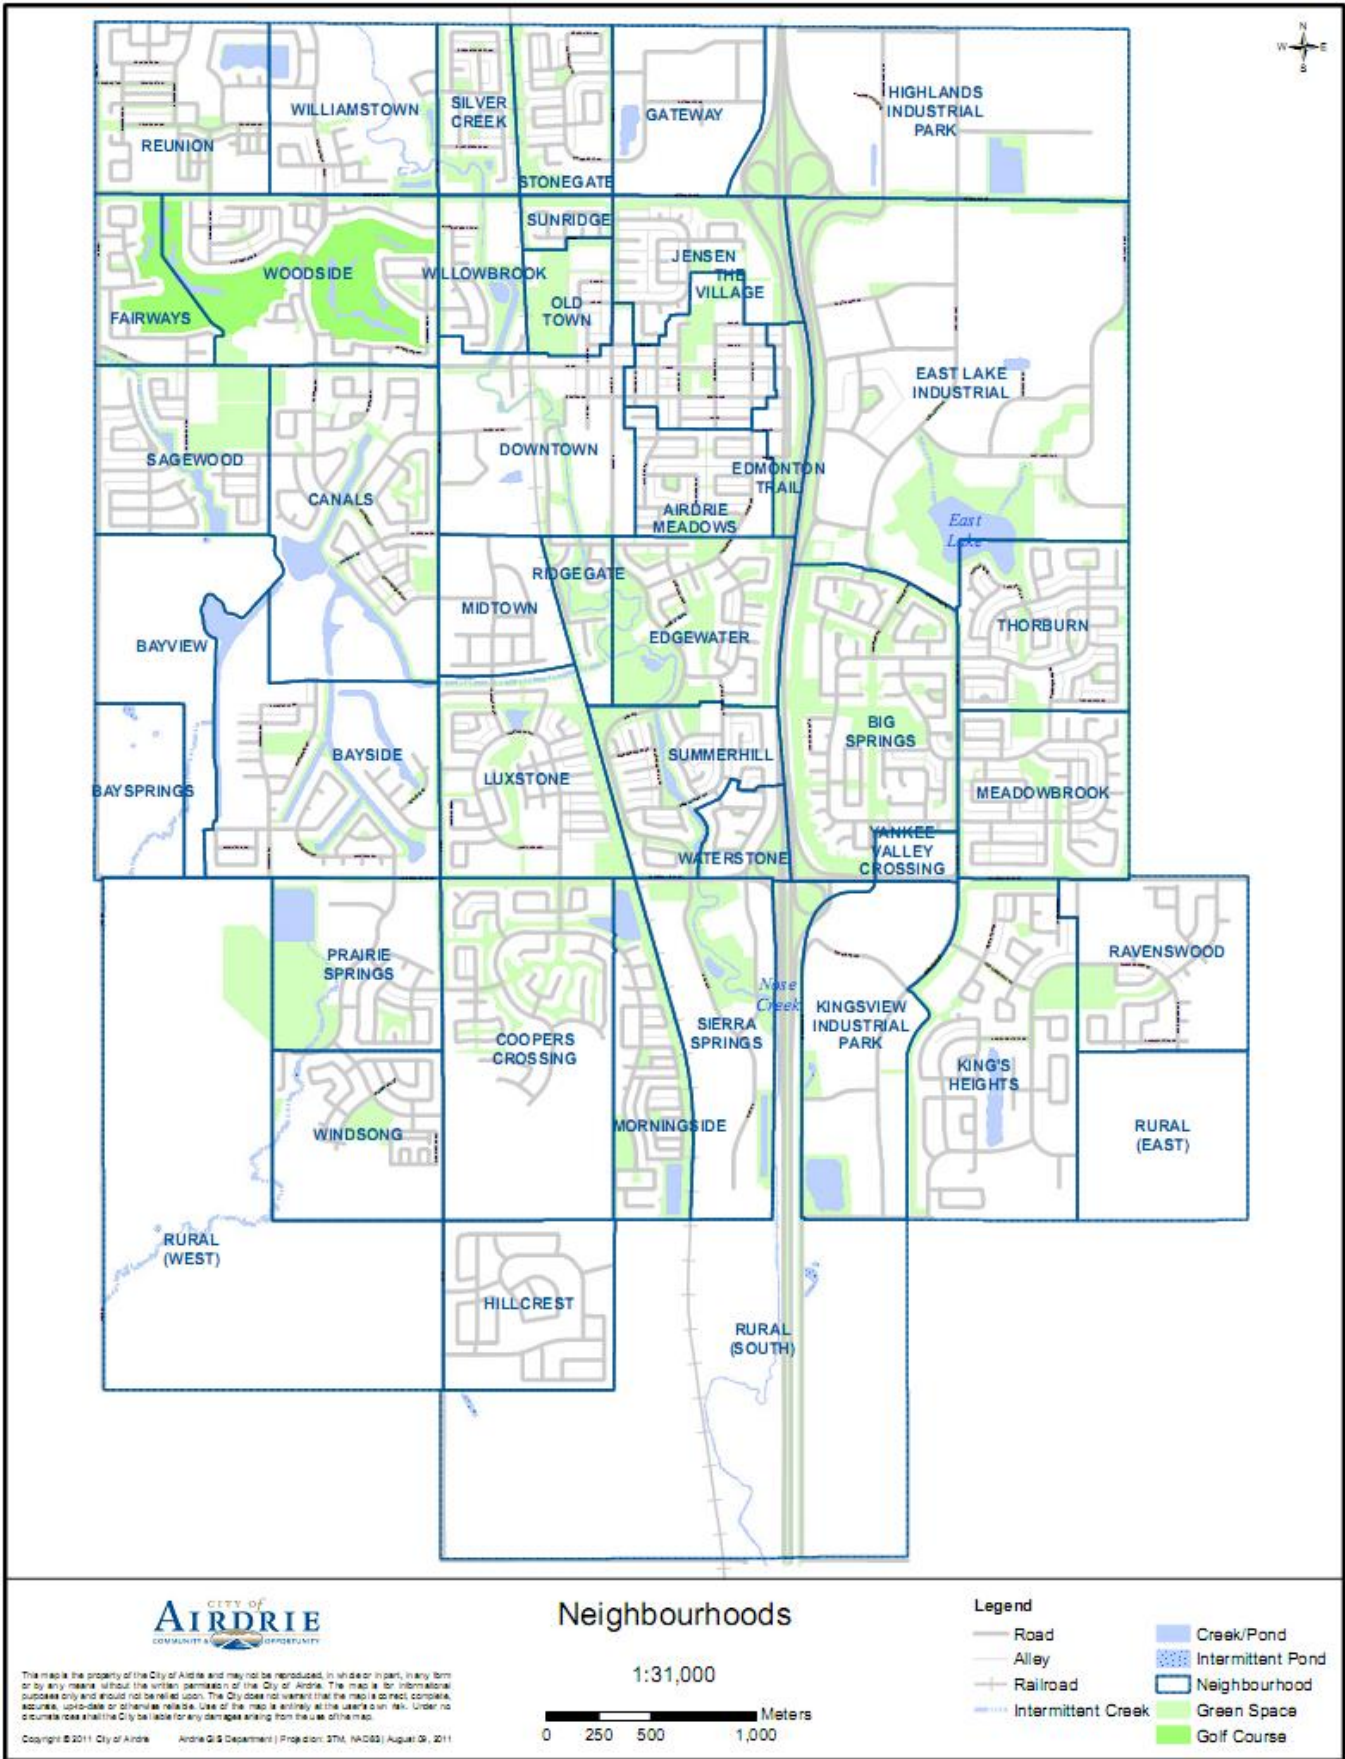

Notice to Users

APPENDIX B – DWELLING TYPE

Single Family – A structure with one dwelling only separated by open space from all other structures except its garage or shed.

Suite – A structure built as a single dwelling but in which the basement or upper storey has been converted into a suite as another separate dwelling.

Duplex – A structure designed to contain two separate dwellings, one on top of the other or one beside the other separated by open space from all other structures.

Triplex/Fourplex – A triplex is a structure divided horizontally into three separate dwelling units, one on top of the other or three units, two of which are side by side and the third of which is either above or below both the other two. A duplex with a suite is to be considered a triplex. A fourplex is a structure divided vertically and/or horizontally into four separate dwelling units, each of which shares two common walls (or floor/ceiling). The fourplex may consist of either two units above and two below or four corner units grouped in a square.

Townhouse/Condominium – A townhouse is a dwelling unit in a row of three or more dwellings in which there are no other dwellings either above or below. A condominium is a residence in a multi-family dwelling that can be owned. Some fourplex and apartment units have changed their status to condominiums.

Apartment – A dwelling unit in an apartment building that is separated from all other dwelling units by a horizontal division or by both horizontal and vertical divisions. Dwelling units in triplexes and fourplexes should be included in Triplex/Fourplex; however, triplexes and fourplexes that are attached to each other in rows should be included here. Dwellings such as suites/flats above or within a non-residential structure, such as a school or a store, should also be included in this category as should structurally separate dwellings in a converted house if they number more than two.

Mobile Home – A single dwelling designed and constructed to be transported (by road) on its own chassis to a site and placed on blocks, posts, or a prepared pad. It should be capable of being moved to a new location. Motor homes, recreational vehicles, travel trailers, and camper trailers if used as permanent residences should be included under Other.

Group Homes – A home containing a group of non-related people living as a unit.

Other – A single dwelling attached to a non-residential structure, hotel, motel, nursing home, senior citizens lodge.

Under Construction - A dwelling under construction is defined as a building in which the roof, doors and windows are not installed.
