

Art Consultant RFQ – Airdrie Multi-use Facility and Library
Addendum 1

- Q1.1 I see on the City website that there has been some public consultation (residents, stakeholders, community) in 2021. Do you anticipate any level of community engagement as it relates to the Public Art component of the project? Can you share any details, if applicable?
- A1.1 There is not a defined engagement envision in the future. The jury will have community representation and the City will look for the art consultant guidance for further engagement or other opportunities.
- Q1.2 The RFQ indicates a project duration (public art consulting) of 30 months, and an estimated project (building) completion date of Spring 2025, however, as we create our Workplan, it would be helpful to have estimated dates of key project milestones, in order for the Public Art milestones to work in-sync with the building design and construction milestones; Are you able to share this information?
- A1.2 Schematic Design End: March 2023
Design Development End: July 2023
Construction Start (Phased): Summer 2023
Working Drawings: February 2024
Construction Completion: Spring 2025
Art Installation: Spring/Summer 2025
- Q1.3 In addition to the 2008 Public Art Policy, are there any other regulatory guidelines or processes from the City that may apply to this project, or would the City be looking at the Public Art Consultant to guide the process based on best practices, precedents, and experience?
- A1.3 The selection of the Jury will have to follow the Council and Committees Procedure Bylaw No. B452022. The art consultant will guide all other processes as it relate to public art.
