

2022 Budget Overview

3.05% of the total tax increase went to COVID-19 net costs but a 3.05% draw from General Operating Reserves (like our savings account) offset COVID-19 costs for a net zero effect.

During the global pandemic, we faced many challenges as a community. Like many residents and businesses, the City also experienced facility closures and increased costs.

In 2022, the City does not expect to receive any COVID related relief funds from other levels of government, however we still have COVID-19 related lost revenue and additional expenses to the tune of $2 million.

In 2020, the City received $7.4 million from the Province of Alberta and Government of Canada as Municipal Operating Support Transfer (MOST) funds to cover the losses due to the pandemic from April 1, 2020 to March 31, 2021. The 2022 budget addresses a continuing operating deficit, newly endorsed City services and future City services. Facing a global pandemic showed more than ever the importance of having savings in the bank.
